Supporting Women in the Workplace

Supporting Women in the Workplace

26th February 2019, London

With the business case for workplace diversity now universally recognised, a more decisive focus on gender parity is now essential to ensure that women are supported at all levels of the workplace. Women still represent fewer than 50% of leaders in every industry analysed and are still paid on average 8.6% less than their male co-workers. Action is required to make sure workplaces are prepared to keep pace with social change.

This conference offers practical advice on removing the barriers that are preventing women's representation in the workplace. We will discuss together how best to recruit and promote more women in our organisations, and how to encourage a positive culture change at all levels of your place of work.

Confirmed speakers include:

- Laura Heywood, HR Business Partner, HR & OD, Greater London Authority
- Shaun McNally, Chief Executive, Legal Aid Agency
- Samantha Rennie, Executive Director, Rosa
- Anne-Marie Archard, Director of the London Leadership Academy and member of London Women's Leadership Network
- Adrienne Burgess, Joint CEO and Head of Research, The Fatherhood Institute
- Chris Naylor, Chief Executive, London Borough of Barking and Dagenham
- Franstine Jones, Vice President, National Black Police Association

Why attend?

- Learn how to remove the barriers to women's progression in the workplace
- Bring new, innovative ideas around workplace diversity back to your organisation, with the insight needed to put them into practice
- Hear from leading figures in women's inclusion
- Earn a CPD certificate for your personal progression
- Enjoy an opportunity to network with top speakers and fellow colleagues

Who should attend?

Anyone with an interest in creating an inclusive workplace, including: employers; HR managers/officers; wellbeing officers; senior managers; consultants; trade unions, staff network leads and representative groups.

The event is CPD certified, and a certificate is available to confirm your attendance.
